Need For $150,000 A Dilemma

By Robert E. Finneran
Managing Editor

Andover administrators are wrestling with a dilemma at the moment, concerning need for about $150,000 for a couple of major projects which have cropped up since the annual town meeting.

Needed is at least $75,000 to either repair or replace the present roof at Andover High School, the figure being a "ball park" estimate, and another $70,000 in planning funds for a multi-million dollar sewer system improvement project to take advantage of federal funding.

The problem stems from deciding whether to call a special town meeting in early June with a couple of articles lacking the charm to lure 350 voters for a quorum, or seek a transfer from the reserve fund through the Finance Committee with the promise of returning the money through action at the October town meeting.

The promise is, of course, somewhat fickle, since the ultimate action is up to town meeting, which well could refuse to provide the funds, despite the endorsement of the municipal administration.

Too, the FinCom well could be reluctant to dip so sharply into the reserve fund for such a substantial amount in the early stages of the fiscal year.

Whatever decision is made, the funds are needed, particularly for the high school roof, which is in a bad state of disrepair and according to school committeeman Frank Griggs, who viewed the situation this past week, "needs the

Scholarship Aid From Doyle Gift

Fred W. Doyle, a member of the Punchard Free School Trustees for many years, has provided a bequest to the group of $10,000 to establish a scholarship fund, with the first award to be made at graduation ceremonies this year.

The Fred Doyle Scholarship will provide a graduating Andover High School student with $750 this year, the first award to be made from the new fund.

The scholarship will be awarded on the basis of "merit, scholarship, and performance as a student for the full period that the proposed applicant has matriculated at the Andover High School and the student's financial need."

Applications for interested students may be obtained at the Andover High School office or to the president of the Trustees Rev. J. Edison Pike, 29 Central St., Andover, no later than May 29.

Doyle has been a member of the trustees for many years. The trustees date back to the town's first secondary school, which was the gift of Benjamin Punchard and established as "Punchard Free School".

When the high school came under the public school system and administration, the trustees remained as the director of the Punchard trust, administering scholarship aid and assisting in the development of secondary education facilities

Academy Announces $50 M Drive For Endowments

Theodore Sizer

Phillips Academy announced a $50,610,000 campaign for endowment and capital funds, the largest campaign ever launched by a secondary school, last Saturday.

The nation's oldest incorporated boarding school, established in 1778 and coeducational since 1973, seeks nearly to double its endowment for the school's third century. Toward that end an intensive drive is planned over the next three years which include Andover's 200th anniversary in 1978 and the sesquicentennial of Abbot Academy in 1979. Abbot merged with Phillips Academy in 1973.

In announcing Andover's Bicentennial Campaign, Trustee President Donald H. McLean said Andover aims to advance skilled and dedicated teaching, the hallmark of an Andover education, to raise student financial aid to $1,000,000 a year, and to expand the Academy's public service role in secondary education.

Headmaster Theodore R. Sizer, former dean of the Harvard Graduate School of Education, said, "Survival is not enough for Andover and the few independent schools like it. We must seek to not only preserve the academic intensity of the residential school but to find new ways to make that experience available to a wider circle of young people."

Sizer said $40 million of the goal is aimed at improving and extending academic excellence and the diversity of Andover's student body into its third century. Approximately $10 million

Rye, New York, will head up the major gifts committee for the campaign, and a national steering committee of 77 Andover and Abbot alumni/ae has been formed with members from Maine to Hawaii to Florida.

Chapin announced Saturday that of several $7.53 million in advance pledges to the campaign.

Phillips Academy first opened during the American Revolution. The "free public School or Academy" was founded in 1778 by a 26-year-old patriot of Andover, Samuel Phillips, Jr., who founded a powder mill that same year to supply General George Washington's soldiers with ammunition. The Phillips Academy seal was made by Paul Revere, its Act of Incorporation signed by John Hancock, and Washington's nephews were among early students.

The Academy constitution, written on April 21, 1778, commits it to "be ever equally open to Youth, of requisite qualifications, from every quarter", and from the first, Andover stressed social diversity

After-School Bus Service In Survey

Attention All Mothers! How would you like to have the after-school rat race taxiing your children hither and yon ended once and for all? How nice it would be to have that 2 or 3 o'clock deadline taken out of your daily timetable.

The Andover League of Women Voters envisions that just such a possibility does exist and that it could become an actuality as early as the beginning of the next school year in September. The League's Transportation Committee is investigating the possible use of buses to take children to their after-school activities, whether downtown or elsewhere, and maybe even to return them to their respective home localities after their activities are over. The bus service envisioned would be a self-supporting subscription service with tickets purchased in advance in order to ensure ridership. The ticket price would be the same for all origins and destinations so that these could be flexible.

In order to determine whether this idea appeals to the Andover community, a questionnaire will be distributed to all Andover school students on Monday, May 17. Parents are urged to fill out this questionnaire and return it as speedily as possible, preferably by Friday, May 21. If you and your family are at all interested in this service, please complete this questionnaire, as the development of this service will proceed only if enough families show interest. It is estimated that this service would cost $10 per school year for each family if sufficient interest is shown.

Certificate Presented

Frank Demers, right, was presented a certificate indicative of his participation in National Historical Preservation, by Philip Dargie and Philip K. Allen of the Andover Historical Commission. Demers and family are the owners of the Benjamin Abbot House on Andover street, listed in the National Register.

Demers Presented Certificate

In observance of "National Historical Preservation Week" May 9-15, a National Register Certificate was presented to Frank Demers, owner of the Benjamin Abbot House, by co-chairmen of the Andover Historical Commission - Phillip K. Allen and Philip Dargie.

The purpose of the presentation was to publicize "National Historical Preservation Week", allow for public recognition of the Abbot property and to stimulate an interest and awareness of the National Register and the historic preservation work being done by the Commission in Andover.

The colonial farmhouse built in 1685 was the home of the Abbots, one of the founding families of the town of Andover. A listing in the National Register allows for Federal and State funds for restoring and maintaining the property.

Frank and Jeanne Demers are currently working on the restoration and in addition are developing a garden featuring herbs of Colonial America and roses from stock growing since the 17th Century.

Scholarships Offered By Andover Jr. College

Members of the graduating class of 1976 from local Merrimack Valley high schools have been invited to apply for one of six full-tuition scholarships being awarded by Andover Junior College for classes commencing in September, President Jack Nesson announced.

Each scholarship is valued at $3600 and is sufficient to cover tuition costs for programs leading to an associate in applied science degree. These programs of study are accounting, management and secretarial science.

AFS Host Families Selected For Andover

The Andover chapter of American Field Service has announced the three host families for the 1976-77 school year; the Frank Kenneys of Sagamore Drive, the James McGoffs of Appletree Lane, and the Stephen Poores of Salem Street.

Each year for the past 11 years

Andover has hosted foreign students through AFS as well as sending Andover high school students abroad.

Phillips Academy has also participated in the AFS program and this year, as well as the coming school year, the Phillips Academy foreign student will live with an Andover family.

The Kenneys have been involved with AFS for several years. Their son, Frank, spent the summer of 1974 as an AFS student in Australia. Bill Kenney returned last January after a year as an AFS student in Chile. The Kenneys also have a daughter, Bonnie, who is a doctoral candidate at the University of Minnesota and another son, Tom, who is a junior at Andover high school.

In August Carmen Bokin of the Marshall Islands will arrive to live with the Kenneys while attending Andover high school as a senior.

Mr. and Mrs. McGoff have six daughters, one of which is still in Andover. Liz is presently in ninth grade at East Junior high school. The McGoffs will be hosting David Morris from Australia.

Dr. and Mrs. Poor will be hosting the Phillips Academy student who will be coming from Dutch Indonesia. The Poores have four children, Aimee in eighth grade at East Junior high school, Susan a sixth grader and Sarah a third grader, both at Bancroft, and Stephen who is four years old.

AFS welcomes inquiries from any Andover people who are interested in becoming involved in the program.

During the coming weeks the Andover chapter will be co-sponsoring the Crafts in the Park on May 16, in June the AFS returnees road show will be in town, and in July Andover will

Arts And Crafts Festival

Wednesday May 19 is the day of the annual Arts And Crafts Festival at the library. There will be demonstrations and exhibits of many different crafts -- weaving, crewel, woodcarving, stained glass, macrame, pottery, painting, flower arrangement. It will be a big bicentennial festival, and in the evening from 7:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. the Valley Guitar Club, a bluegrass band, will perform.

Film Festival Ends

Antonia, which is the last film in the Women's Film Festival, will be shown on Tuesday May 18 at 10 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. This film is a warm and affectionate portrait of Antonia Bruckner who, in the 1930's, established an international reputation as an orchestra conductor. Now at 73, she seeks an opportunity to lead a major symphony orchestra in a field dominated by men. An American Film Festival "Emily" award winner and an Academy Award nominee, Antonia was directed by folk singer Judy Collins and Jill Godmilow.

Sculpture In Miniature

The library is showing several beautifully wrought figures in pewter of characters from Moby Dick. Ahab, Ishmael, Queequeg and Tashtego are individually handcast figures by Mico Kaufman. A resident of Tewksbury, Mr. Kaufman has twice designed and sculpted medals for President Ford; he has completed numerous commissions for the foremost mints in America, including the Medallic Art Co., Franklin Mint and the Hamilton Mint. The Moby Dick characters will be on display until the end of the month.

Library Opera Club

The Opera Club will meet on Thursday May 27 to review the opera Tristan And Isolde by Richard Wagner. The meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Ms. Lotte Bertheim, 226 Hampshire St., Methuen.

A Wee Bit O' Scotland

The May book list, compiled by Elaine Shank, is a sampler of books about Scotland. It includes both fiction and non-fiction -- travel, biography, music, cook books. The book list and display are in the main reading room of the library.

May Art Display

This month's art exhibit is a selection of oil paintings by Jane Trumbore. Ms. Trumbore, who studied at Cooper Union in New York, is presently a member of the Reading Art Association and the Andover Artist's Guild. She has had a one-person show at the Cinema 1 & 2, Peabody, Mass. and has exhibited work at the Avco Show, DeCordova Museum, and Brandeis University. Alaskan Youngsters Visit Tradition

Twenty-five Alaskan elementary school children have come to town on the first leg of a pilgrimage to experience big cities and "a rich part of America we've only sort of read about."

The children's home is Craig, on an island of 400 people isolated even from mainstream Alaska, let alone mainstream U.S.A. The children, over half of them Tlingit and Haida Indians, are staying with Phillips Academy faculty families for five days while they walk the Freedom Trail and also take in the realities of modern Boston, with their social studies teacher and four of their mothers.

The schoolchildren earned their own money for the trip, and call themselves "The American Adventurers". In a letter to Mrs. Louis Hoitsma, president of the Phillips Academy Ladies Benevolent Society, who arranged housing for the group, they explained: "Our trip from our home, the town of Craig Alaska, to your home is the great American adventure of our lives. None of the children have ever been back East before to any of the places we'll stay, like Boston, Philadelphia or Washington, D.C. and we've mostly lived all our lives in Craig, which has about 400 people in it, though there are more in summertime when the fishing people come to catch salmon and halibut. We've come to experience big city realities we rarely face, like even stoplights and basements. We figure we'll learn a great deal from each of you about our country, your city, other people and ourselves. And maybe you'll learn something from us too, if only to know that all Alaskans don't live in igloos and its not 40 degrees all year long."

The American Adventurers gave a program of songs, skits and descriptions of their Alaskan island culture at Kemper Auditorium Wednesday evening for their hosts and interested guests.

Mrs. Hoitsma, a Doherty School mother, is helping the group's leaders scale Boston sightseeing plans down to a scale that will be comprehensive and exhaustive, but not suicidal. (From 2,000 miles away, it seems reasonable to do the Freedom Trail and Concord and Lexington and a factory or two in one day.) Andover's first contact with the Alaskan school came when Jerry Foster, Director of Phillips Academy's Complementary Schools Project, visited Craig, Alaska, last year.

Ruth Club Tops Methuen, 8-1

Dave Farrell ... 3 hits, 3 stolen bases

Steve Serley ... 3 hits, 4 RBI's

By Rick Harrison

The final roster for the Andover Babe Ruth baseball team was drawn up recently, and after several practices the 1976 club launched its pre-regular season activities with an impressive 8-1 victory over defending playoff champion Methuen at the Pelham Street field in Methuen.

Three Andover pitchers pooled talents for a one-hitter during the eight-inning practice game, walking three and striking out seven. The trio retired the final 14 Methuen batters in order, and the lone run scored by the losers was unearned.

Meanwhile, the Andover hitters were combining four Methuen hurlers for 11 safeties, including three apiece by leadoff batter Dave Farrell and clean-up man Steve Serley who were both 3-for-5. Serley also collected four RBI.

Serley worked the first four innings on the mound, surrendering just a two-out third inning single to Dave Lowell. He issued three walks and fanned four during his stint.

Pete Feeney and Dan Grams followed with two perfect innings of relief work each, setting down six batters in order. Feeney whiffed two and Grams K'd one.

Andover jumped to a quick 3-0 lead in the top of the first frame. Dave Farrell singled up-the-middle and promptly stole second base. Dan Grams walked, and Chuck Souter's sacrifice bunt was misplayed to load the bases.

Steve Serley then drilled a three-run triple to rightfield, but was left stranded himself when the next three batters went down easily.

Methuen notched its run in the second on two infield errors and a passed ball.

The locals, who had men on base in every inning but the second, upped the spread to 5-1 in the third stanza.

Consecutive singles by Souter, Serley and Bill Stahley accounted for one run, while Larry Larrabee's bases-loaded groundout chased home the second tally.

The final three Andover runs came in the sixth. Dave Farrell led with his third single and followed with his third stolen base. Dan Grams lofted an opposite-field RBI double down the rightfield line. An infield error rescued the seventh run, and Steve Serley collected his fourth RBI with a ground single to rightfield.

Contributing other hits to the Andover attack were 13-year-old rookies Joe Cammarata and Wayne Merola, both of whom lashed singles.

Defensively the locals were also sharp.

Catcher Brian Kelly made several outstanding plays behind the plate, the best of which was a diving, one-hand stab of a foul pop off the bat of Al Arsenault.

Larry Larrabee turned in a fine running grab of a long flyball down the rightfield line, and Dan Grams was flawless at third base handling four grounders.

Schedule

Andover will continue preparations for its early-June season's opener by facing South Lawrence West and Tower Hill in practice games this coming weekend.

The team may also play a non-league game under the lights in Lowell later this summer, and will face several Canadian youth teams during its annual trip to Montreal July 4-7.

Returning members of the Andover team are Dave Farrell, Dave Birnbach, Dan Grams, Steve Serley, Chuck Souter, Bill Stahley, Larry Larrabee and Pete Feeney.

First-year players include Brian Kelly, Bob Heidt, Bob Patterson, Joe Cammarata and Wayne Merola.

First Andover Native Ordained At Church

Father Burbine, prostrate before Bishop Ruocco, a symbol of offering himself to the priesthood.

Rev. Michael D. Burbine, O.S.A., became the first parishioner to be administered the sacrament of Holy Orders in St. Augustine's Church last Saturday afternoon.

Father Burbine, son of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Burbine, 52 York St., Andover, was ordained by Most. Rev. Joseph F. Ruocco, Auxiliary Bishop of Boston, before a church filled with relatives, friends and priests welcoming him into the Augustinian Order.

In the past, Andover men who have joined the Augustinian Order have been ordained at either Villanova, or at Merrimack College. The ordination of the young Andover man in his home parish is a new trend to allow men to return to their parish to be ordained.

It is aimed at allowing the family and community to join in the acceptance of the vocation by the newly ordained.

Following the Saturday afternoon Mass and ordination, Rev. Edward G. Robinson, O.S.A., pastor of St. Augustine's, spoke briefly in welcoming the young parishioner into the Augustinian Order.

Mrs. Charlene Farrell, Father Burbine's sister, gave one of the readings.

He was presented to Bishop Ruocco by Rev. Robert Wesson, O.S.A., Merrimack College graduate and vicar provincial of the Villanova Province of the Augustinian Order.

On Sunday, Father Burbine offered his first Mass at St. Augustine's.

A graduate of St. Augustine's school and Austin Preparatory School, he received his degree magna cum laude from Villanova.

He will be assigned to the faculty of Monsignor Bonner high School in Drexel Hill, Pa.

Mrs. Charlene Farrell, Father Burbine's sister, gives one of the readings during the Mass and ordination ceremonies.

Youth Ministry Active In Vale

A recent emphasis at the Ballard Vale United Church has been on Youth Ministry and the many activities related to it.

An entire Sunday Morning Worship Service was given to the celebration of this ministry. Youth led the entire service. Karen Robinson led the singing of folk songs and hymns, Bill Kettinger read the scripture, and many children from the Church School were led by "Bud" Crowninshield in singing the anthem. A highlight of this service was the reception of Susan Stephens, Aimee Poor, Jeffrey Roy, Paul Hempstead, Robert Heidt, William Kettinger, Scott Mattheson, and Lee Hollenbeck as new members of the church. Kathy Robinson delivered a sermon on the important aspects of the Youth Ministry at Ballard Vale United Church as she has experienced them.

Mrs. Peggy McLeod interviewed eight youth who had recently spent part of Spring vacation at a special program at Camp Aldersgate in Rhode Island. These youth were: Carolyn Darling, Betty Darling, Kathi Wilson, Michelle Johnson, Todd McLeod, Kevin Hollenbeck and Lee Hollenbeck. Laurie Hinckley and Jean Pinkham served as ushers and Evelyn Itz was the acolyte.

The Senior High Fellowship enjoyed a progressive supper. The Hollenbeck family furnished an appetizer at the church, the Wilson family furnished the soup course, the Darling family furnished the main course with vegetable donations by Bill Kettinger, Evelyn Itz and Peggy McLeod, and the Robinson family furnished dessert. While at the Robinson's the group had their business meeting and enjoyed some games and records together.

Other special features of the Youth Ministry at Ballard Vale United Church include the recent invitation to all sixth graders to begin attending the regular Wednesday afternoon Junior High Fellowship meetings from 5 to 7 p.m. At the same time all ninth graders are invited to attend the Senior High Fellowship meetings from 7 to 9 on Sunday evenings.

The youth from the Ballard Vale church will begin this Sunday afternoon to participate in a District Softball League with youth from eleven other communities. This will be a co-ed league and includes youth in Junior and Senior High. Games will be each Sunday afternoon and a final playoff and youth weekend will be held July 9-11 at the Rolling Ridge Conference Center in North Andover.

Present plans call for the Senior High group to go Back Packing in the White Mountains on the weekend of June 18-20. Those planning on attending this special adventure weekend should be present for the planning program on Sunday May 23 at the church.

Fall Church School Registration Begins

Andover's Unitarian Universalist Church Religious Education Committee has announced programming for Fall '76 through Spring '77, and has recruited teachers for the first five-week "blocking" period. Pre-registration began at the church last week, and will continue through May.

The initial five-week "Total Immersion" experience will involve children from kindergarten through ninth grade in either introduction or creative review of the Unitarian Universalist movement and historical highlights. Related activities will be woven through the session and an All-Church Family Celebration will be the culmination of this intensive and innovative schedule. Nursery care for infants and toddlers will be provided, as well as a nurturing pre-school environment for three and four year old pre-schoolers.

The Religious Education School at the Andover Unitarian Universalist Church is staffed by parents and other lay members, who receive training via group retreats, learning kits and materials prepared by professional educators, and guidance conferences with the minister, Dr. Randolph Becker.

Already recruited for Fall '76 teaching are the following: Beverly Faust, Doris Selfridge, Jill Gardner, Ann Stier, Melissa Selfridge, Pam Gardner, Susan Vail, Lisa Soli, Patty Stoddard, Marge Stein, Marge and Fred

Snell, Maureen Allison, Carol and Ray Hopkinson, John and Moira Baker, Joseph Schoonover, Fran and Bill Lane, Peter Vail, Joyce Stier, Nancy and Don Mulvey, Sue and Mike Tucker. Wins Poster Contest

By Beth Lancaster
Sixth Grade
South School

Julie Hirsch, a seven year old from South School, was inspired to enter a poster contest when a woman from the American Humane Educational Society came to South School and talked to the children about the cruel treatment of animals. At the end of her talk she passed out entry forms explaining how you could enter the club. Julie took one home and asked her mother if she could join, and her mother said she could.

Julie was sent a pamphlet from Animalia showing projects that she could do and telling about the poster contest. She copied a picture that she had recently made for a project at school called "Save the Whales" and sent it in. After a few weeks she received a phone call telling her that she had won third place.

She received her prize Sunday, May 2 at the Franklin Park Zoo, which included a pin saying "American Humane Educational Society Poster Award, Third Prize", and in the middle, a picture of a dog. She also received a ticket to the Museum of Science.

She was very excited to be able to accept a prize from the Society.

Our Bicentennial Weekend

Through The Townsmen's Lens

In true bicentennial, colonial spirit, sudden rain failed to dampen the re-enactment of the charter presentation in Andover last Thursday night. Instead of the outdoor ceremonies in front of town hall, those attending as well as the participants, slightly damp, trekked to the East Junior High auditorium for the ceremonies. The above photo shows the crowd venturing through the rain drops to the auditorium where Pat Canavan, in photo below, recited the charter which deeded Andover to the inhabitants for six pounds and a coat. Photo at left shows one of the "Indians" in the ceremony, while at right, Suran Mirisola, one of the "citizens".

An Old Fashioned Picnic

A Tribute Worthy Of Commendation

Sunday's Bicentennial Parade, the biggest in Andover's history, was indeed worthy of the commendation it received from the thousands who lined the parade route.

The months of work and preparation for the event showed in the orderly and precise spacing of the various units as they stepped off sharply at 1:30 p.m., as promised by the parade chairman.

The chairman, Sidney P. White, led the Aleppo Temple Mounted patrol, which he serves as captain, and, as such, gave a spirited salute from the patrol to those on the reviewing stand. Local officials responded enthusiastically, not just for the courtesy extended, but in tribute to the efforts of White and his committee.

As chairman, White would be the first to pass the credit for the bulk of the work to his committee members, who have been attending meetings faithfully over the past year to prepare for the Sunday pageantry.

In a letter published nearby, White comments on the efforts of the planning group.

Success of such events depends greatly on the advance preparations, such as lining up bands, marching units, floats, etc. Once organized, sponsors need be obtained, some arrangements for refreshments for participants, where necessary, constant checking for confirmation of the commitment.

Then organizing the parade in the various divisions.

Finally, making those last minute preparations to insure that it goes off on time -- that there are not last minute problems to delay the program as planned.

Finest tribute, of course, came from the general public after the two-hour procession of music and pageantry had passed with the overwhelming agreement that it was a great parade -- one to remember for a long time.

And, the weather -- well, with Captain Sid in charge, how could the day be any better?

A Letter Of Thanks

To the Editor of the TOWNSMAN

The Bicentennial Parade in Andover, this past Sunday, stepped off at 1:30 p.m. sharp, thus fulfilling my promise. I hasten to say, this was possible only with the tremendous service and cooperation of a host of people.

My sincere thanks to Police Chief Nicoll for making available to me, Sgt. James F. Johnson, to be in charge of Civil Defense operations. Sgt. Johnson was courteous and extremely helpful at all times during the planning stages and right to the end. To him and all those who worked under his guidance, I am extremely grateful.

To all the parade participants, a big "thank you"! If it had not been for every one of you, there could not have been a parade. You are the ones who proved that Andover could do it.

As the writer of this, I wish to state that Miss Marion Hill was one of the most efficient key workers that anyone could ever have. She, along with James J. St. Germain, David MacDonald, Jr., Charles A. Shattuck, William A. Doherty were the foundation committee. They did a great job, each one determined from the outset that Andover would have a fine parade. Many, many others put in a lot of time and effort and I wish to say "thank you" to one and all.

Sunday's spectators owe thanks to the following for their monetary contributions, and I add my personal gratitude. Without these we would have been unable to have as many fine parade entrants, or carry out some of the details that the committee felt would add to your pleasure.

With A Little Pride And Appreciation

There is a bit of nonchalance which greets the arrival of the TOWNSMAN weekly, whether it be by mail, newscarrier, or at the news stand.

That's as it should be, really. We have a responsibility to get the weekly complement of news and advertising messages to you, and we recognize that fact.

But last week was a little different.

The May 6 edition of the TOWNSMAN, totalling 80 pages, was the largest ever published in the 89 year history of the publication.

It contained process color work, a bicentennial section of 32 pages noting Andover's contribution, past and present, to the nation's history, as well as the people involved in Andover's Bicentennial celebration, and a regular 48-page news section.

To produce the particular edition required the extra effort of all those involved in the weekly production of your community newspaper.

But, when such extra effort is required, it is always forthcoming.

Editorial work for the special Bicentennial section was done by Linda S. Corbett, who also had to step in and produce the news content of the regular 48-page paper as well, due to the brief, but untimely, hospitalization of the managing editor the first of the week.

It is such action and dedication which goes into your weekly newspaper.

We're rather proud of it and thought we'd share it with those we strive to serve -- you, our readers.

What Our Readers Say

To the Editor of the TOWNSMAN

I wish to express gratitude to those responsible for the seats that were in places of honor for "We Who Are Older".

I have received so many expressions of gratitude for this lovely deed that I just had to share their thought with all of you. The day was beautiful and the parade was the best one I have ever seen.

All the loving work that went into each and every float and all the groups of marching units and bands were just the greatest.

I must give a special thank you to the magnificence of the Shriners' huge portion of the parade. The glory of their work with the crippled children is reflected on their faces.

A thank you to our own Sid White for honoring the Senior Citizens by saluting us while astride that beautiful horse. We were all thrilled to be given such consideration.

It was a beautiful day and love was in sway.

To the Editor of the TOWNSMAN

Congratulations for an outstanding issue containing so many interesting facts about the Town of Andover and its people. It was varied and showed our enviable past but also gave a positive picture of the present and future of our Town.

Having served as President of the Andover Historical Society, I have been aware of the outstanding citizens who have molded the Town into its present beauty. I'm sure the future is secure also.

To the Editor of the TOWNSMAN

The article which appeared in the TOWNSMAN last week (Col. Edward M. Harris, author) was great, and a number of people have come forward to buy the book in advance as a result.

I must, however, disclaim sole credit for the design of the Bicentennial Medallion, however. It was my idea to honor the two Samuel Phillips on the obverse of the medal. However, I arranged with Laura R. Allis to sketch the design which is substantially that which appears on the medal now. The Committee, consisting of Barbara Saulnier, chairman, Elden Salter, John D. Lewis and myself between us made some changes in the design which included putting the scroll above the heads of the men, the dates around the circumference,

CETA Jobs Made Available Here

The town of Andover has $89,000 allocated for jobs administered through the Comprehensive Employment Training Act (CETA) for those who qualify.

The funds must be expended by Sept. 30.

David Montella, CETA administrator for Andover, explained that the job descriptions drawn up by Town Manager J. Maynard Austin to meet the requirements for the funding, provide for about 30 temporary jobs which will open in early June.

Application must be made through the CETA office at 577 Common St., Lawrence, before the end of May.

To be eligible for participation, an applicant must be unemployed 30 days, be a member of a significant segment of the population, and be a member of a family whose total income is within the revised guidelines, based on the Bureau of Labor

Statistics (i.e. $6,200 to $8,200 for a family of three.)

Town Manager Austin informed the CETA Manpower office that the town could provide the following job opportunities under the guidelines of the federal regulations: ten laborers, one project supervisor - laborer, four painters and one work supervisor painting projects. The school department would have the 13 maintenance laborers and two painter positions available.

Austin said that as nearly as possible the jobs are divided equally between the school and general governments.

Applicants should contact the CETA Manpower office as soon as possible.

Andover residents should make application as soon as possible, since not all qualify and those other than local citizens could be awarded the positions.

The 1975 Federal income tax filing period recently has been concluded successfully in Massachusetts and the media played a large part in this, disseminating news and information which has helped taxpayers file correct tax returns.

This has been my first tax filing season in Massachusetts as District Director and I want to personally thank you and members of your staff for your cooperation before and during the January - April tax period.

The information which you disseminated was a fine public service because it was beneficial in instructing the taxpayers of their rights and obligations under Federal tax laws.

work this summer".

The roof, which Griggs described as being "never right and not going to get any better", has been leaking for some time. This past spring, buckets dotted the school to catch the water dripping from the roof.

In his professional opinion, Griggs said the roof either needs major repair or a completely new roof. Some of the insulating material under the roof may be damaged and also need replacement.

He suggested that it should be done this summer, while school is not in session, and ventured that another year of letting the current condition exist could present more serious problems.

Griggs walked the roof with Committeeman Joseph Finn and custodians at the high school. He reported to his colleagues Tuesday night that the roof is blistered all over and that there is a serious crack in the roof over the gymnasium.

Problem stems from the roof being placed in the winter time in the original construction and not having an opportunity to properly bond.

The roof was accepted on the architect's recommendation that a five-year guarantee be provided and bonding sufficient to cover any problems.

The five-year period has elapsed with apparently no follow up, Griggs said, thus the bond amounts to about $1,500 for the town to make any correction or repair.

The only good area on the entire roof is over the library, Griggs said.

The roof has been patched many times, "and we can see where it will require a lot more patching," Griggs said.

In many areas the drains are above the roof, thus the water is allowed to stand on the roof.

In the gymnasium area, some patching was done last winter over ice and water, thus no bond obtained.

Griggs said the work should be done this summer and that, in fact, the problem had reached the town manager stage, that is, specifications should be obtained, and procedures followed to get the job done this summer.

With that, the school committee voted to forward the recommendation to the manager and note that the school department would make a determination of how much funding it could provide.

As for school funds, Supt. Kenneth R. Seifert noted that the town will be receiving some $175,000 in funds from state and federal sources, from education programs. The money goes to the general fund.

Sewer System Planning

The other financial problem is putting up about $70,000 in planning funds for sewer system improvements to take advantage of some federal funding.

The funds are available and have been ordered dispersed to qualifying communities.

Timetable calls for the planning to take place this summer and the project presented to a town meeting for approval in the fall.

Involved are projects totalling $5,750,000 for which the federal government will pay 90 percent, including the planning funds, after the latter has been provided by the town and the town meeting approval given the total project.

The Massachusetts Division of Water Pollution Control recently revised the criteria for funding municipal sewer construction projects, thus making some of the portions of Andover's master plan eligible.

To be included in the total project submitted for approval will be the outfall sewer from Riverina Road to the Merrimack River, which is nearing capacity and will soon need replacement, $1,470,000; replacement of the Riverina Road pumping station, $1,480,000 and installation of collecting sewers in the Highland, Woodland and Holt Road areas, $2,800,000.

The selectmen Monday night decided to ask the Finance Committee about their feelings toward providing the planning funds, with the promise that it would be returned to the reserve fund at the October town meeting.

The action is due to doubts about being able to obtain 350 voters for a quorum for the special town meeting.

With the additional item of the high school roof, however, the view may be changed and the special session mandated to provide the funding for both projects.

Ballet Group To Present "Coppelia"

Aina Jansons Ballet Academy of Andover will present "Coppelia" on Friday, May 21, at 8 p.m. in Andover East Junior High School.

The ballet will star Miss Jansons, and Fred Alexson, formerly of the Boston Ballet and now a choreographer, teacher and dancer with the Chicago Ballet Company.

Featured performers will be Lisa Griffin, Carol O'Donoghue and Catherine Kirkland of Andover, and Claire Batchelder of North Reading.

The three-act production will be accompanied by a 26-piece orchestra conducted by John Allen, Miss Jansons' husband.

Miss Jansons, former prima ballerina with the Latvian National Ballet Company, was spotted at the age of six by her country's dance critics and was lauded in their columns. Her name appeared in the papers again a year and a half later, this time recounting her performance as Clara in "The Nutcracker".

At 10, Miss Jansons won the top award in the International Children's Dance Competition in Vienna, Austria. By then, she decided to become a ballerina.

She studied daily for 11 years with Madame Federova Fokine, sister-in-law of the famed Michael Fokine, and also with Latvian National Ballet School. At 17, Miss Jansons became a soloist in the Latvian National Ballet Company, without the usual years of experience in the corps de ballet. Within a year, she attained the rank of prima ballerina, the youngest person ever to do so in that company.

In 1943, Miss Jansons was honored as Best Young Artist of the Year and went to study ballet in Vienna with Madame Polikova who, prior to her exile, had founded the Yugoslavian Ballet Company.

A year later, due to political upheaval in Latvia, Miss Jansons and her family were forced to flee the country after the rest of her family was either exiled or shot.

For the next three years, Miss Jansons traveled across Europe, first performing with USO shows for over a year. Since most of the theatres had been destroyed by bombs, she usually performed on makeshift stages, on one occasion dancing on two ping pong tables for more than 7,000 soldiers.

After a time in the British Zone of Germany, she agreed to go to England as a domestic worker. Because of her status as a displaced person, one of 40,000 in the country, she was denied by the British Minister of Labour a contract to perform with the Royal Ballet, offered her by that company's founder, Dame Ninette de Valois.

After nearly a year of scrubbing floors, Miss Jansons went to Palma de Mallorca, Spain, where she taught for six and a half years. She performed there often as well. And during her years there, she returned to England to tour as a performer.

It was in Spain that she met and married Allen. They have one daughter, Aina Maria. The family has lived in Andover since 1963.

Ms. Allen is serving as ticket chairman for the ballet. Tickets will be sold by a seating plan, hence advanced reservations are suggested. Some tickets will be sold the night of the performance, but, according to Ms. Allen, choice of seats will then be limited.

For further information, contact Ms. Allen, 10 Dufon Road.

Costello was educated in local schools and graduated from Johnson High School.

She was a member of St. Michael's parish, Blessed Virgin Sodality, Ladies Division of Ancient Order of Hibernians, Division 20, and St. Michael's Guild.

Surviving are her husband, Francis J. Costello; two sisters, Miss Arlene Roberts and Elizabeth, wife of Joseph J. Shea, both of North Andover; two brothers, Ernest J. and William Roberts of North Andover; her mother, Mrs. Catherine (Driscoll) Roberts of North Andover; and several nieces and nephews.

A funeral Mass was offered Tuesday at St. Michael's Church with burial in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery.

Funeral arrangements were handled by funeral directors R. George and John D. Caron of North Andover.

The Singing Dentists

Follies Had Wide Participation

The Lawrence General Hospital Aid Association's Centennial Follies, presented last Friday and Saturday evenings, enjoyed wide participation from all areas of the hospital as well as the community.

Al Noyes, executive director of the hospital, served as master of ceremonies; Carole Schultz, director of the nursing school appeared in several skits and did a rousing jitterbug. Pat Sheehan, also from the nursing school, stopped the show with her

"Whatever Lola Wants, Lola Gets!"

The entire engineering department appeared as Playboy Bunnies. The board of trustees was represented by Anna Manzi and Shirley French and of course many of the Aid Association board members were on hand to kick up their heels in chorus numbers.

Many nurses and other hospital employees were on hand both on and off stage to help make the show a rousing success.

Among the many talented soloists were Anita McCarthy, Claire Syiek, Ruth Suslovic, Dr. Raphael Borelli, Jr., and Kathleen O'Connell.

For many performers, this was their third Follies in recent years. One such couple was Jan and Chuck Cooper who contributed their talent to each of the recent shows.

It was a fun-filled experience for all the participants and the culmination of a year of centennial events for the Lawrence General. The show not only brought various areas of the hospital family together, but it also infused spirit and good feeling that will certainly be a fine way to begin the next one-hundred years.

Foreign Language Teacher Honored

Mrs. Dorothy Goclowksi of Andover was recently received as an honorary member in Merrimack College's chapter of Alpha Mu Gamma, a foreign language fraternity, at the Lanam Club.

Among the six students who were inducted as regular members for outstanding achievement in foreign language, was Ms. Mary-Corinne Lyons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Lyons, 1518 Great Pond Road, North Andover.

Mary-Corinne is a junior French major and was inducted for her achievement in German.

Modern Languages Professor Richard Boulanger of Andover is faculty sponsor for the Merrimack chapter.

A teacher of Spanish and Russian at Andover High School since 1965, Mrs. Goclowksi is currently vice-president of the Massachusetts Bay Chapter of the American Association of Teachers of Spanish and Portuguese as well as secretary for the American Institute of Foreign Study in the Northeastern Massachusetts Area. She received her B.A. degree from the University of Massachusetts with a major in Spanish and minors in French and Russian.

Mrs. Goclowksi is recognized as an innovative educator and has assisted in the development of numerous programs to promote the knowledge and appreciation of Spanish in the Greater Lawrence area. In 1965, she initiated the Spanish program in the Andover School System which now offers five years of concentrated study to nearly 800 students. At Andover High, she has developed a Spanish Language Center and brought forth interdepartmentalization between Spanish classes and other academic departments.

Mrs. Goclowksi has initiated the Foreign Travel Program at Andover High. Since 1969, students and teachers have traveled to Spain, Tangier, Poland, Hungary, Russia and, most recently, Mexico. She has also developed a Spanish Immersion Program and a Spanish newspaper for high schools in the Greater Lawrence area.

Besides promoting exchange programs with Phillips Academy and Lawrence High School with Andover High students, she has prepared a Spanish television program in conjunction with Andover High and PA. This special program, which will appear this spring on local cable television, will describe in Spanish the history of Lawrence along with educational and cultural opportunities available to Greater Lawrence residents.

Rhubarb In Season

May is the peak month for fresh native rhubarb, so enjoy the season while it's here, suggests the Massachusetts Department of Food and Agriculture.

This unique vegetable is grown in many parts of the Bay State and was introduced here in the early 18th century by a Maine gardener who brought either the seeds or root stock home from Europe.

Rhubarb has been dubbed a spring tonic, and its was in fact used for medicinal purposes centuries ago in China and Siberia, where it probably originated.

While it does contribute some vitamin C and calcium to the diet, rhubarb is best appreciated for its eating qualities as a fruit in sauces, preserves and desserts such as pie, pudding, sherbet or even a soufflé!

When you purchase rhubarb, look for fresh, firm, tender stalks that are neither very slender nor extremely thick. They should be bright and glossy and mostly pink or red in color, though many good quality stalks can be predominantly light green.

The stalks are of course the edible part of the rhubarb plant, and the leaves should not be eaten because of their high content of oxalic acid.

Rhubarb will keep well in the refrigerator for several days. It may be canned and is also very easy to freeze. Simply wash and cut in 1 or 2-inch pieces or in lengths to fit the package.

Before freezing, the rhubarb may be heated in boiling water for one minute and then cooled promptly in cold water; this will help retain color and flavor. For sweetened rhubarb, cover with cold 40 percent syrup (3 cups sugar to 4 cups water) before freezing.

Stewed rhubarb is easy to prepare: simply combine in saucepan one pound of diced rhubarb with ½ cup each sugar and water. Cover and cook over low heat 10 to 20 minutes till tender.

To Feature Firemen's Muster

Lawrence Intown will present a special salute to the Bicentennial on Friday and Saturday, May 14 and 15. The highlight of the event will be a firemen's muster, to be held directly on Essex Street on Saturday, May 15. Fire companies from all over New England will compete with antique engines to see which can shoot a spray of water most accurately over the greatest distance. The popular spectator sport will take place on Essex Street, in the block between Franklin and Hampshire Streets, starting at 1 p.m.

Another feature on Saturday will be a Bicentennial Parade, in which the competing fire engines and other groups will march. The parade will begin at 11 a.m., and the principal route will be along Essex Street. The Lawrence High School Band will march in the parade and, as an added attraction, will present a band concert at 12:15 p.m. on Essex Street in the block between Hampshire and Franklin Streets.

Lawrence Intown will be decked out in red, white, and blue for the two-day event, and many stores will offer old-fashioned values in keeping with the spirit of the occasion.

Any organization or group interested in participating in the parade should contact Michael Costello, the Intown Manager, at the chamber office.

1 TEST DRIVING A CAR THAT'S BEEN AROUND THE BLOCK A FEW TIMES DOESN'T MEAN MUCH.

2 TEST DRIVING A SIMILAR MODEL THAT'S BEEN AROUND, DOES.

VOLVO INTRODUCES THE TEST DRIVE FOR PEOPLE WHO THINK.

The way things are today, you may have to hold on to a car a few years longer than you used to. And with the prices of new cars what they are, we think you deserve to know what you're getting into.

That's why your Volvo dealer wants you to take two test drives. One in a Volvo with at least 30,000 miles on it. And one in a brand new Volvo, with the features you want.

You'll see how tight and solid a used Volvo can be. And on the strength of its past performance, you'll get an idea of how well your new Volvo should perform over the next few years.

And since the next few years may provide economic pitfalls as well as potholes, we think you'll choose to ride them out in a Volvo.

When you pay thousands of dollars for anything these days, you should have a good strong case for your investment. Only one car maker invites you to examine the evidence.

Come see it at the Volvo dealer who invites you to take "The Test Drive for People Who Think."

VOLVO
The car for people who think.

Traffic Light Installed

A new traffic light has been installed on North Main street for the convenience and safety of senior citizens.

Andover officials, at the request of the Andover Housing Authority, sought state assistance in installing the light near the new elderly housing units on the former Curran Estate.

State Rep. Gerald Cohen provided assistance in obtaining the light from the state Department of Public Works.

The signal is now in operation and coincides with the occupancy of the new elderly units.

First Meeting

The first meeting of the local Growth Policy Committee will be held Tuesday,

May 25 in the conference room of the town hall.

The committee was formed at the request of Gov. Michael Dukakis through the state planning office. It is composed of representatives of the town's major boards, committees and administrators.

Memorial Mass

A Mass for deceased members of Court St. Monica, Catholic Daughters of America, will be held Thursday, May 20 at 5:30 p.m. in St. Augustine's Church.
